1. Introduction

The energy-based realm of the fairies is located in the so-called fifth dimension of planet earth and is at this time (May 21), completely separated from humans. Like all other energy-based realms, you will currently only be able to visit it within the scope of this book, provided you have a sufficiently high personality development and a sufficiently high integrity. If you have already done your tasks for this one life and are ready to take on global tasks, it may well be that one of them will be the task of intercultural mediation. Especially since you are obviously drawn to this one book or series of books for some reason.

The task of intercultural mediation is an extremely demanding, but also an extremely exciting one. And if you have already read one or several other books in this series of books, you will probably have noticed how diverse and different the individual energy-based realms of planet earth are. Each of these realms has its own characteristics and thus contains its own possibilities of experience. An immense wealth that opens up in front of a (future) intercultural mediator, thus.

If you act as an intercultural mediator, you act in the interface between the material and energy-based dimensions. Ideally, you will have in-depth specialist and experience-based knowledge of the two very different dimensions. And, of course, also with regard to the individual living spaces, the individual realms and the respective residents.

For your future task you need your human body with its human, material-based abilities. But also, your astral body and your energy-based abilities. Ideally, you are fully aware of both levels, both modes of action, both bodies and their abilities, both forms of perception, both forms of communication and both forms of life. Yet, you have acquired a broad theoretical and practical knowledge in all of the areas listed.

Therefore, you need, very practically:

- A place of residence where you feel completely safe and comfortable.
- Adequate financial and material security and the certainty of continuously secure supplies in this regard.
- Your human mind must understand and grasp your human self in depth.
- Enough time and space to study in detail.
- The ability of energy-based communication and the ability to be consciously in the astral body.
- The conscious guidance of your own inner being / divine self.

And if you feel inside yourself, you will find out there, whether the task of intercultural mediation will be one of your future tasks. If so, you will find important and helpful information in this volume that will support you in your future task. At the same time, of course, we would like to introduce you to the energy-based realm of the fairies and bring them closer to you.

Humans have developed a great many fictions. Not just in the realm of the fairies. And so, all of our books are written with the aim of dissolving these novels increasingly. That is why you will not only find truth in our books, but also words, whole sentences, but also human myths woven into them. This, with the aim of supporting their dissolution in the long term. Thus, this book also serves as a training ground for you to become sure in the distinction between truth and fictions created by man.

Yet, it can also be that one of your current tasks is the sustainable dissolution of human fictions and the simultaneous strengthening of truth. Something that you can recognize from the fact that you move in all sorts of settings, behave adequately there, but at the same time also continuously discover ugliness and fiction, express yourself with great clarity and power and thus implement something new and beneficial. This, regardless of the hierarchy level you officially assume in this one setting. You Speak truth and it naturally begins to sort out accordingly.

If you have adopted your own high vibration frequency, you usually work extremely quickly in a variety of new tasks. Sometimes during a certain period of time without being aware that you are now increasingly acting on different levels at the same time and thus are changing sustainably according to your natural size. And so, we encourage you to consciously look at your current everyday life and let your own inner core show you how diverse and great your work is.

You are doing very great things and you are very precious. Right now, in this demanding transition phase on planet earth. And so, of course, you should also receive generously. Yet, this book supports you in this as well.

If truth is clear and pure in the room, it is no longer possible to create relevant fictions. And so, we encourage you very much to give this topic enough space in your life. Until you are able to distinguish between truth and fictions in principle. Consciously use this book as a practice platform. Allow yourself to be clearly shown what truth is at all times. Also, allow yourself to increasingly grasp human myths and fictions. Take the topic with you into your everyday human life and allow here, too, that you are basically capable to distinguish between truth and fictions.

"We" are in this book:

Susanne Edelmann, current human incarnation of the Ascended Master Lady Nayla Og-Min and writing author.

Lady Nayla Og-Min, Ascended Master, incarnated many times, both as a human being and in the energy-based realms of the earth. She was often incarnated in the energy-based realm of the fairies. The realm not only suited her very well, but also equipped her in a variety of ways for her current tasks. She made a big name for herself in the realm of the fairies as Queen Titania. But more about that in one of the next books.

Lord St. Germain, Ascended Master and currently living in a human embodiment that is now becoming increasingly fully conscious. At the latest when he has reached his full awareness, he will be able in his human embodiment to consciously and sustainably dissolve the diverse human fictions and the diverse human abuse that his name and his person have experienced for decades. At last!

Lord Ben Josef, Ascended Master. His name is deliberately chosen so that people had not been able to superimpose it so far. And since his current human incarnation is also on the way to full awareness at high pressure, it will hopefully stay that way.

Ovid, Arcutrian at the level of an Ascended Master. Arcturus, the Arcturians and the Arcturian mother ships are also humanly superimposed and involved in all kinds of novels. We have therefore decided to write a book about Arcturus in the near future and thus to clean up a bit in this area as well. A book that we are all particularly looking forward to. Arcturus is a very special planet.

Aryelle, current queen of the energy-based realm of the fairies. Where «queen» is not the appropriate expression. A fairy is gender neutral and can therefore be more appropriately referred to as a fairy being. But more about that in the next chapter.

The name "Aryelle" is not entirely correct either, but it is the product of Susanne's attempt to transform Aryelle's vibration frequency into a (human) name and thereby make Aryelle more structured and comprehensible for people.

As already written several times, an energy-based living being has no name at all. It doesn't need one.

May this book serve you! You personally!

Warm regards

2. The energy-based realm of the fairies

You probably already guessed it, even the word "fairy" is overlaid with a multitude of human myths and thus a great deal of human imagination. You can recognize this by the fact that a certain picture, possibly also certain stories, automatically develop in you when you read "fairy". Something that will likely be with you for some part of the book. What is not bad, you continuously dissolve. This in turn serves to fundamentally dissolve all these many human fictions and thus supports an actual constructive coexistence between humans and fairies.

With fairy, a person involuntarily implies a slender, female being who has magical powers and moves with the help of colorful, iridescent wings.

Human imagination that has nothing in common with actual truth. And so, we allow ourselves to use the word "fairy beings" in this book. A word that is not overlaid in a human way and thus helps you to perceive better. At the same time, we will very consciously use the word "fairy" repeatedly. This will bring you - consciously - into connection with the human fictions that are still obscured in your holistic system. They probably irritate you first, but then set a corresponding cleaning process in motion. A fact that helps to cleanse the word and the entire energy-based realm of the fairies from human overlap.

Incidentally, we have written all of our previous books this way, and we will continue to do so in the next. The books therefore not only serve to convey information and support highly developed people. Yet, they are also very consciously written for the sustainable purification of many human fictions. And have you ever wondered why the name "Adamus St. Germain" was so prominently featured on the last book covers, you will now grasp the answer. "Adamus St. Germain" was (and still is) heavily overlaid with human fictions. Our books have deliberately drawn sophisticated people through the law of resonance. People who have grasped intuitively and then mostly questioned them. People who have started to search for the truth and then found it and carried it clearly and purely within themselves. "Ashtar Sheran" is another such name. But also «Kuthumi», «Jesus» or «Lady Rowena». Of course, also some of our human incarnations.

An uncomfortable entanglement that needs to be resolved in the long term, now.

A fairy being is gender neutral. The fairy realm knows neither marriage, sexuality nor family. The aspect of "we" is relative in this incarnation. The subject of the "I", however, is central. And so, the energy-based realm of the fairies is one of the places where personal development can best and most successfully be studied. The one main reason why a being incarnates as a fairy: The main focus on the conscious confrontation with oneself and the conscious personal development. Fairies thus capture themselves as part of the whole and the realm of the fairies is also based on a certain social structure. Nevertheless, the focus of her life as a fairy is mainly on her own life and her own development.

If you are interested, you can read part of the history of the creation of the energy-based realm of the fairies in our book "Old Times: Lemuria".

The incarnation as a fairy is still based on this genesis:

If a being decides to spend its next life as a fairy and if its life plan in this regard is approved by the Council of Light, it looks for a so-called "fairy-being teacher". A holistic mother-/father-being that accompanies and supports it on its arrival and in its first years of life in the realm of the fairies. However, this takes place quite differently than it is the case in human living space.

A fairy being teacher is a highly developed being who has had several, long and varied lives as a fairy and who makes himself available consciously for the task of a fairy being teacher. If a being would now like to spend its next life as a fairy, a fairy-being teacher in this regard will be assigned to it by the "Teacher Council of the Fairies".

If the being is then ready for its next incarnation, it consciously connects with the inner core of the being with the consent of the respective fairy being teacher and lives for a certain period of time as an "internal visitor" in the body and life of the fairy being teacher. This happens until the corresponding being has studied sufficiently and is sure that it can now create its own fairy body. The being then detaches itself from the body of the fairy being teacher and creates its own fairy body with the support of its teacher. A body that has the typical appearance of a fairy being and at the same time represents a physical expression of the respective being. An extremely important act. A basic requirement for life as a fairy, which is given a high value and therefore a lot of space. If the being then has its own fairy body and thus also its own personality as a fairy being, it is accompanied and supported by its fairy being teacher until it is comfortable in the land of the fairies and has found and installed his own place of retreat and his own personal work and study space. After that, a fairy being lives and acts autonomously, free and self-empowered.
